Emergency Medical Technician

FIRE 797, an eleven unit course, prepares students to take the National Registry Examination. Successfully passing the exam provides the student with National Registry certification as an EMT. This course is required as a prerequisite for the Fire Academy, as well as for students who want to continue on to a paramedic training program.

For more information about the Fire Technology program, including the Fire Academy and Emergency Medical Technician courses, visit the Fire Technology website (collegeofsanmateo.edu/fire).